Call for Applicants

Africa Journal of Management (AJOM) Junior Faculty Fellowship

The Africa Academy of Management (AFAM) would like to announce the 2019 Africa Journal of Management Junior Faculty Fellowship.

Purpose

The Africa Academy of Management is seeking applicants for the Africa Journal of Management Junior Faculty Fellowship (AJOM-JFF) for 2019. The purpose of the Africa Journal of Management (AJOM) Junior Faculty Fellowship is to provide an annual award to a qualified junior Faculty member from an African-based university to be mentored by a senior Faculty member (mentor) from a business school at a North American or European university. The intent of the Fellowship is to assist a junior academic at an African-based university who has published in the Africa Journal of Management (AJOM) or participated in an Africa Academy of Management (AFAM) conference with a completed scholarly paper of merit to jointly conduct research with a senior academic. The goal of the collaboration is a co-authored conference paper presentation and at least one journal article.

The 2019 Mentor and Sponsoring Institution:

The 2019 sponsoring institution is the DeGroote School of Business, McMaster University, Canada. The Fellow will be mentored by Professor Benson Honig who is the Teresa Cascioli Chair in Entrepreneurial Leadership. His research includes over 100 scholarly articles on nascent, transnational, and social entrepreneurship, social capital, and scholarly ethics. Prof. Honig is the Past chair of the Academy of Management's Ethics Education Committee and serves on the board of the Africa Academy of Management as well as 10 editorial boards of top journals in the field of management.

Who Should Apply and Eligibility:

- a) A 5-page proposal for the research to be undertaken
- b) Up-to-date curriculum vitae
- c) Indication of AJOM article published or presentation of paper at AFAM Biennial Conference in preceding four years
- d) Statement of how the Fellowship will support his/her academic career
- e) Two letters of recommendation
- f) A statement of support from the applicant's institution that includes: (1) permission for leave to visit the DeGroot School of Business, McMaster University, Canada, North America) for 8-10 weeks between September – December 2019; (2) provision of in-kind support to help with the successful completion of the fellowship such as reduced teaching load, research support, etc. and (3) provide the Fellow with opportunities to share some aspects of the Fellowship learning with other academic colleagues by way of a seminar, workshop or other forums.

The deadline for submitting the above documentation is 15 April 2019. No applications will be accepted after this date. Incomplete applications will also not be considered. Please put AJOM Fellowship Application as the subject line on your e-mail when submitting your application. Please submit your application documents or queries about this Fellowship via email to: Professor Stella Nkomo, stella.nkomo@up.ac.za

Notification of acceptance: 15 May 2019

Fellowship Period: 1 August 2019 to 1 August 2020. The successful applicant is expected to begin the fellowship from the date of acceptance. Residence in Canada will be subject to obtaining a valid Canadian visa, thus, actual Canadian residence date may vary. Anticipated visit would occur sometime between September and December 2019.

About the Africa Academy of Management (AFAM)

AFAM is a not-for-profit association of academics and practitioners interested in advancing research and education about management in Africa. Its membership is comprised of academics, students and practitioners in all regions of Africa and the diaspora. In 2016, AFAM became an affiliate of the Academy of Management. AFAM believes management knowledge can make a significant contribution to productivity and prosperity of Africa. Yet, there is a dearth of knowledge about management in Africa and several studies have identified the inadequate state of management research and scholarship about Africa relative to other regions of the world. Our mission is to help close this gap by promoting research and education about management and organizations in Africa. Our initiatives focus on building and strengthening research capacity and education about management in Africa. This includes the mentoring of doctoral students, guiding and developing junior faculty, building collaborative networks among scholars, and advocating interest and focus on Africa internationally. Since its founding, AFAM has held three successful international conferences in San Antonio, TX, USA in 2011, at the University of Botswana in 2014, at Strathmore Business School in Nairobi, Kenya in 2016, and the School of Commerce, Addis Ababa University in 2018. The fifth biennial conference is underway for 2020 at the Lagos School of Business, Lagos, Nigeria. AFAM launched the Africa Journal of Management (AJOM) with the inaugural issue was published in 2015 by Taylor & Francis. In 2019, AJOM was added to the Scopus Index.
